

ALL CAUSED BY A $20 CAT. IN FEAR OF A RUSSIAN SPY.

Comedy of Errors in a West Twenty-third Street Flat.

Mrs. Hazlet May Well Ask, "Where Was I At?"

Mrs. Hazlet, the mistress of a pretty flat at 118 West Twenty-third street, bough and brought home a twenty-dollar cat. Mrs. Emma Marion, her 21-month-old daughter, refused to feed the feline, insisting that she was engaged and paid for feeding Henry Andrews, the star boarder.

NEW LEBANON HOSPITAL.

Dedication Exercises Celebrated and a Fair Is in Progress.

Ten thousand people participated in the dedication ceremonies of the new Lebanon Hospital, which took place yesterday in Westchester avenue.

The first act in the ceremony was the turning over of the keys of the hospital to Jonas West, President of the Hospital Association.

Rev. Philip Klein offered prayer and Rev. Dr. B. Drachman delivered the dedication address. Dr. Samuel Lloyd was the president of the association.

A fair is now being held in the hospital building and the receipts therefrom are expected to place the new hospital on a fair financial basis.

Three years ago the association started the movement to place a dispensary and free hospital for the poor in the Annexed District.

In 1890 the Association incorporated as the Lebanon Hospital Association and the building was erected on the corner of Westchester and 118th streets.

Up to Jan. 1 over $25,000 had been received in dues and gifts and there was a balance of $15,000. Contributions of money and articles for the hospital are being requested.

INDIANS WON'T GIVE UP LANDS.

Negotiations Fall with Wind River, Shoshones and Arapahoes.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 23.—Gen. John W. Mendenhall has been here for the Wind River Indian Reservation, with news that the Commission of which he was a member had been to the Indians.

The Indians are interested in the Shoshones and Arapahoes, to the number of 4,000, who hold the land in fee simple.

The whites desire a strip of four miles along the waterways on the southern border of the reservation.

The Shoshones are willing to sell, but the Arapahoes would not hear of relinquishing.

At the second council, the Indians almost fought. The reservation belongs to the Shoshones and the Arapahoes, and the Shoshones are not to be trifled with.

Archbishop Ireland's Presence at St. Louis, Mo. B. Imperator.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23.—Archbishop Ryan arrived in the city Monday and proceeded to the residence of Peter L. Fox, where he passed the early part of the evening.

A priest said: "Perhaps Archbishop Ryan will not admit it, but it is pretty safe to say he is here to decide whether there is a necessity for immediate action, such as, for instance, as the sending of Archbishop Ireland to St. Louis to take the place of the late Cardinal Gibbons."

Mysterious Sophia Halpern Suddenly Becomes Violently Insane.

The Police Think She May Be a Banished nihilist.

Sophia Halpern, a rather attractive-looking young Russian, was taken to Bellevue hospital this morning for observation in the insane pavilion.

While patrolling his post on Canal street shortly after midnight this morning, Police-McDonough, of the 11th district, saw a woman running along in great haste near the turnpike.

When she got to Hammer's drug store she pounded violently on the door and to the clerk who appeared she cried in German:

"Hurry up, I'm poisoned. I want to be out open."

The woman was not more than twenty-two and had apparently just got out of bed. She had thrown a long black cloak over her nightgown and drawn on her shoes without stockings.

Police-McDonough took her to the 11th district station, where she said she was Sophia Halpern, a needle-maker, and that she had a furnished room at 130 Clinton street, she came from Russia six months ago, she said, and her husband was still in that country.

She declared that she had been poisoned by a Russian police spy named Miller, who gave her the poison in a cup of coffee in a restaurant in East Broadway.

When she was taken to the station, she was in a state of great excitement and was being held by several men.

DID MUNSCH TRY SUICIDE? KANSAS MAY YET HAVE WAR.

He Shot Himself, So He Claims, by Accident.

Said to Have Been Desperately in Love with a Pretty Blonde.

Paul Munsch, the twenty-six-year-old embroidery designer and poet, of 103 West Houston street, who is in St. Vincent's Hospital hovering at death's door from a self-inflicted pistol shot wound in his left breast, still maintains that his shooting was accidental.

One circumstance has come to light which would seem to supply a motive for the shooting. It was not accidental, "he was so much in love," exclaimed Mrs. Louis Herman, who lives on the second floor of the house in the top of which Munsch has been living for the last two years.

She continued: "How does love hurt? They have been engaged, but her parents said they should not marry until he had a better income. Munsch loves his dear girl, and she was willing to marry him, but he would not let her parents' wishes stand in the way of his love."

He has been living with her parents at 47 South Washington street, a beautiful girl, about eighteen years old, blonde, with great blue eyes. She and Munsch are of French ancestry.

The "nihilist," she replied, "I have no idea who Munsch shot himself. I was only an acquaintance of his, and although he said to have a letter addressed to me which is in the hands of the police, I cannot imagine who he was in love with."

With a scolding from "The World" containing an account of Munsch's shooting, she has been unable to get to bed, and, despite her evident effort to preserve her reputation, her eyes filled with tears.

She said she did not know why he shot himself, but she thought he was in love with a girl. She said she did not know why he shot himself, but she thought he was in love with a girl.

ALBANY'S WAR OF THE BOSSES.

Effect of McLaughlin's Attack on "the Machine."

The Bolt Believed to Be Growing More Serious Every Day.

England had its War of the Roses. Albany has its War of the Bosses, and a bitter strife it is growing to be. It is not paradoxical now to say that the majority in the Senate is a minority.

Since Boss McLaughlin's Senatorial representatives, McCarren and McCarty, have joined the opposition with Senators Brown, Parker, Bloodgood, Norris and McClelland, there are just nine Senators left who stand by the Machine.

The anti-Machine crew appears to be contagious, for it has broken out in the Assembly among the Brooklyn representatives. There is a bitter feeling among the Brooklyn members against Gov. Flower because he vetoed the bill legalizing the expenditures for the Brooklyn Columbian celebration.

Senator McCarren says that forty-eight hours before he vetoed the bill, the governor promised to sign it. His subsequent refusal to do so, he claims, was a betrayal of the Brooklyn cause.

The Brooklyn legislators at first said they would not vote for the bill, but they refused to vote for the bill reimbursing him for his outlay of $50,000 for the purchase of the site for the new building. They have changed their minds. The reason therefor is something that has happened since.

Gov. Flower is said to have sent word to Boss McLaughlin that he would sign the bill, but that he would not sign it if it was not for the Brooklyn cause.

McLaughlin is next heard of through his representatives in both branches of the Legislature. Speaker Sulzer was informed that eight Brooklyn Assemblymen would refuse to go to Albany to vote for the bill.

McLaughlin also told the Speaker that others he knew of would remain away from the caucus. The caucus was not called.

In the Senate, Senator McCarren was prepared to object to the Fire Island bill, which was on the calendar yesterday. He got to the stars of Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan that McCarren was "out for his killing."

He prompted Senator McCarren to say that he was "out for his killing." The bill was not called up, and an open rupture was prevented.

The break in the Brooklyn ranks is no surprise to well-posted politicians. They declare that the Brooklyn representatives would have shown their independence by voting against Murphy for Senator if they could have unconcealed their defeat.

The defeat of the Machine then is no indication that they were part of it, as events have proven.

Those who have means to know, say that Boss McLaughlin is "out for his killing," and that he cannot be frightened into submission by the Brooklyn cause.

It is calculated that the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania will carry over thirty thousand eight-sevens to the inauguration.
